DISCOVER THE FORESHORES AND FORESTS...

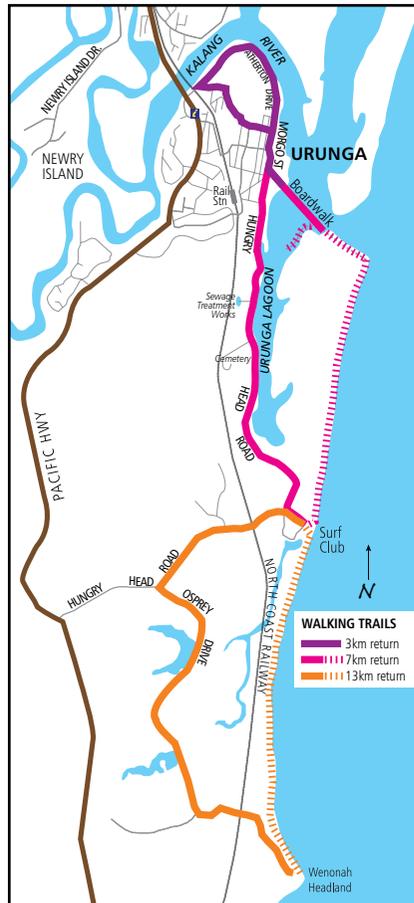

Located 530 km north of Sydney at the mouth of the Belling and Kalang Rivers, Urunga is a tranquil, untouched town with clean beaches and pristine waterways surrounded by lush green farmlands. Urunga township opens out onto a tidal lagoon complete with wetlands boardwalk. Beyond is a staggering sweep of surf and, from here, Hungry Head Beach reaches south. This impressive stretch of sand is easily accessible via a carpark – lifeguards and flags in holiday season make it a great choice for families.

The word Urunga is an Aboriginal word meaning 'long white sands', and while that aptly describes it's wonderful stretch of golden beaches, it doesn't do justice to the area's rare beauty.

Urunga has some beautiful walks around the foreshores, plenty of fishing and sporting activities like golf and bowls as well as lots of sun and salt air. Take a stroll along the board walk to Urunga Lagoon and then out to the ocean and beaches.

Urunga Foreshore Loop – 3 km return – very gentle

A short flat walk around the Kalang River foreshore. The walk starts from the board walk (through the Urunga Heads Holiday Park), in front of the Ocean View Hotel. The walk wanders along the gravel road between the Urunga Golf Course and the river and provides an opportunity for fishing, stopping to watch tennis, croquet or golf, or just watching the river and local bird life. Completion of the loop can be via Bellingen Street (along the other side of the golf course) or you can sidetrack into the town centre for drinks, snacks or tea/coffee at any of the cafés. Total duration to complete the loop, without a coffee break, is about an hour.

Urunga to Hungry Head Loop – 7 km return – easy

This loop track departs the Urunga Museum on Morgo Street, through the caravan park and along the boardwalk. The track continues along the southern break-wall to the river mouth. Visitors may return along trails at the back of the sand dune or continue south along the beach to Hungry Head. Complete the loop back to Urunga via Hungry Head Road passing by Urunga Lagoon.

Hungry Head to Wenonah Head Loop – 13 km return – easy

This extended beach walk commences at Hungry Head carpark. Head south (across the Dalhousie Creek lagoon) towards Wenonah Headland. Half way along this beach walk is another small headland, locally known as Second Head, which provides an ideal location for a short break. Return from Wenonah Head can either be via the beach or inland via Osprey Drive and Hungry Head Road (Tourist Route 16). This latter return path provides views of macadamia orchards. Total duration to complete the loop is approximately three hours.
